Automix are top entry paddle mixers that use slow speed high torque motors to mix powders and coatings

The top motor unit is fixed in a rigid wheeled frame; the mixer head is raised to remove the tub

The mixers are compact and fit into the back of an estate car or small van

They are light enough to take onto upper building floors and powerful enough to keep up supplying mixed material all day

Mixing is continuous and another bag can be run through the mixer while the first mix is being applied
